

Penang-born Jasmine H. Low is a writer, producer & podcast host of 'Listen by Heart Podcast', inspired by her mother Shirl. Jasmine juggles her creative escapades, while running a creative agency. A runner-up at the Motion Picture Association APAC Script-to-Screen Pitch Competition (Malaysia) for 'Kurang Manis', the documentary is on hold due to COVID-19, but is now also a podcast. For a decade, she hosted 100+ music and spoken word events in Kuala Lumpur. She created the Penang In-between Arts Festival, was a moderator at the Georgetown Literary Festival (2014-2015). She received a VIMA Hall of Fame Award in 2009 for her contribution to the independent music scene.
